Issue : The problem I'm facing is that when I'm moving my mouse pointer on the second screen, the image that is appearing on the 1st screen gets bigger again. If not, it stays but... I don't see my pointer. When I put my pointer on the right top corner of the screen, the cursor is rotating. When I put it in a corner down from there, the cursor just appears there without moving. This happens when I use both screens at same time. The screenshot that I'm talking about is : To sum up, the cursor is perfectly working but the image not. Then I focus on one of my screens. The issue gets fixed only when I switch back to the other screen. After a few click on the second screen, the image just appears out the cursor. Anything that can help to solve this issue would be helpful. Thank you! A: try this. I think this will solve your issue.
